

Organization Profile

Serving the profession of dental hygiene since 1963, the Canadian Dental Hygienists Association (CDHA) is committed to professional knowledge translation. Dental hygiene is the sixth largest registered health profession in Canada; CDHA directly represents more than 19,000 members, including dental hygienists and students, who work in a variety of settings to improve the oral health of Canadians.

Circulation Profile

CDHA's two flagship publications, Oh Canada! (our member magazine) and the Canadian Journal of Dental Hygiene (our peer-reviewed research journal), offer the dental and oral health industry an amazing opportunity to reach out directly to the dental hygiene community. Both the journal and magazine are published three times a year. All issues are circulated by email to over 18,000 members and hosted on CDHA's website with embedded links. Two issues per year of each publication are mailed to CDHA members who have requested print delivery (75% of total membership).

Here's what our readers have to say...

- 95% feel that CDHA publications are worth reading
- 93% agree that CDHA publications meet objectives
- 65% of readers discuss articles with colleagues and/or clients
- 93% place medium to high value on CDHA's publications
- 89% are satisfied with the relevance of published content

Canadian Journal of Dental Hygiene
www.cdha.ca/CJDH

Established in 1966, the Canadian Journal of Dental Hygiene (CJDH) is CDHA's official peer-reviewed research vehicle. Published three times a year in February, June, and October, the journal encourages oral health research that advances the scientific basis of dental hygiene practice and addresses topics of relevance to education, policy, practice, and theory. CJDH publishes original research, literature reviews, short communications, and letters of scientific and professional interest to dental hygienists and other oral health professionals.

CJDH is the only peer-reviewed English research journal published in Canada exclusively for dental hygienists. Eighty-two percent of CDHA members have ranked it as their preferred choice over any other oral health journal in North America.

Oral Health (Oh) Canada! magazine
www.cdha.ca/ohcanada

Oh Canada! is CDHA's non-peer reviewed member magazine. Published three times a year in spring, summer/fall, and winter, it provides a forum for the communication of association news, clinically relevant dental hygiene and oral health information, and new product information. Articles are written by members, dental industry partners, and others. Regular columns include FOCUS, work-life wellness, business issues/practice management, student scene, association in action, research and resources, talking ethics, and dental hygiene at home & away.

Upcoming FOCUS topics

- Fall/Winter 2018 Dietary Choices and oral implications (sugar, xylitol, Canada's new food guide)
- Spring 2019 Cannabis and Oral Health
- Summer 2019 Occupational Health Issues: Burnout, Harassment & Work- Related Wellness
